

Bengal

The Bengal should be alert, friendly and affectionate with a dependable temperament. The luxurious coat is a distinct feature of the breed. The overall look of the head should be as distinctly different from the domestic cat as possible. Bengals take at least two years to mature

HEAD: A broad medium wedge, with rounded contours; longer than it is wide, with high cheekbones. Rather small in proportion to the body but not taken to extremes. The curve of the forehead should flow into the bridge of the nose with no break. The line of the bridge extends to the nose tip, making a very slight to nearly straight concave curve. The nose is large and broad. The muzzle should be full and broad with a strong chin and large, pronounced whisker pads. EARS: Medium to small in size; the smaller ear preferred; wide at base with rounded tips; set as much on the side as on the top of the head. The ears follow the contour of the face in the front view and tilt forward in profile. Inner ear may be slightly tufted. EYES: Oval, almost round, large but not bold. Set wide apart and with a slight slant towards the base of the ear. NECK: Long, substantial, muscular and in proportion to head and body.. BODY: Medium to large in size. Long and substantial. Neither oriental nor foreign. Very muscular in mature males. Allowances to be made for females being less muscular and smaller.	BODY: Medium to large in size. Long and substantial. Neither oriental nor foreign. Very muscular in mature males. Allowances to be made for females being less muscular and smaller. LEGS: Medium length, strong and muscular. Hind legs are a little longer than the front legs. PAWS: Rounded. TAIL: Medium length, thick with a rounded tip. COAT: Short to medium in length; very dense, luxurious and unusually soft to the touch. Coat may be glittered or not glittered with neither type to be given preference.	FAULTS <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Long, rough or coarse coat. • Whippy tail. • Barely visible pattern. • Belly not spotted. • Tail tip not dark. • Pendalise mackerel tabby pattern on spotted cats. • Any distinct locket anywhere on the body. • Any defects listed in Relevant to All Breeds Section. Allowable outcross breeds: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • None. Standard Amended: 2001/ 2024/ 2026

BENGAL PATTERNS

LEOPARD SPOTTED PATTERN (Pattern Code: Ts)

Head barred with an "M" on forehead. Dark pencilling to run from outside corners of the eyes. Light spectacles around eyes. At least one other unbroken line on cheeks. Lines on head to run on either side of scarab and down back of neck to break into spots on shoulders.

Body: Spots shall be random or aligned horizontally. Rosettes showing two distinct colours or shades, such as paw print shaped, arrowhead shaped, donut or half donut shaped or clustered are preferred to single spotting, but not required. Contrast between pattern and ground colour must be clear. Blotchy, horizontal shoulder streaks, spotted legs and spotted or rosetted tail are desirable. Strong bold chinstrap desirable. Contrast between pattern and ground colour must be extreme, giving distinct pattern and sharp edges. Virtually white undersides and belly desirable. Belly must be spotted.

Legs: May be barred and/or spotted. Darker gauntlets on hind feet.

Tail: Ringed, streaked and / or spotted, ending in a dark tip.

Undesirable: Vertical Stripes

MARBLE PATTERN (Pattern Code: Tr)

Head barred with an "M" on forehead. Dark pencilling to run from outside corners of the eyes. Light spectacles around eyes. At least one other unbroken line on cheeks. Lines on head to run on either side of scarab and down back of neck to break into pattern on shoulders.

Body: A distinct pattern of large swirled patches and blotches or horizontal streaks. Rosettes may appear on shoulder and rear quarters. Three or more shades are desirable. Contrast between pattern and ground colour must be extreme, giving distinct pattern and sharp edges. Virtually white undersides and belly desirable.

Necklace/s may be broken or unbroken. Belly to be spotted.

Legs: May be barred and/or spotted. Darker gauntlets on hind feet.

Tail: Ringed, marbled and/or spotted, ending in a dark tip

Undesirable: Typical classic pattern.

CHARCOAL BENGAL

(Pattern Code: Cr)

Registration Code: BEN 05 Sh Tr / TsCr

Added at the end of the breed/colour code

The Charcoal effect can be combined with all Bengal patterns and colours (e.g., Spotted and Marble Tabby, Sepia, Mink and Snow).

Charcoal should show definite contrast between ground colour and markings with distinct shapes, and clearly defined edges. Pattern should have a horizontal flow. Preference to be given to very dark spotted or marble markings, with clear outlines, and well contrasted to the cold ground colour with very little to no roufousing without warm gold, or amber tones. Charcoal is grey toned rather than warm brown toned.

There must be white, or nearly white spectacles encircling the eyes. A dark mask runs all the way from the nose bridge to the nose, and connects from the mascara lines all the way to the nose bridge. A wide, dark, "cape" running down the length of the back is desirable. Masks should be black and not brownish. Colour on chest and belly should be lighter than ground colour. The striped tail is dark brown/black or greyish black with a black tip.

Note: Sepia, Mink and Snow kittens are born light and the mask is likely to develop before the cape. Allowances should be made for slower mask and cape development in Sepia, Mink and Snow kittens.
